Conditions Governing Use:

MOA restricts the use of its images for commercial purposes. Permission is granted for one-time use only and reproduction is limited to what has been approved specifically in this application. Images of objects, people or settings may not be cropped or altered in any way without permission. MOA reserves the right to reject proposals that do not fall within its mandate; subject the collections or the cultures from which they come to misrepresentation or disrespect; or involve objects deemed to be sacred. The MOA Archives does not hold copyright to all materials in its possession. In cases where the Archives does not hold full copyright, it is the responsibility of the applicant to obtain permission and to pay any fees to all other copyright holders. In photographs with identifiable people, it is the responsibility of the applicant to obtain from those individuals written permission to reproduce the image. MOA may also require the applicant to seek permission from the originating community, depending on the nature of the request and the object(s) selected.

Accreditation

All images must be identified as specified by MOA, including the phrase "Courtesy of the Audrey & Harry Hawthorn Library & Archives, UBC Museum of Anthropology." Where known, the fonds, collection, photographer, and ID# must be acknowledged.
