MOA FLOORPLAN

From spectacular long term displays of Northwest Coast First Nations art, to changing exhibits featuring local and international artists, to the more than 10,000 objects from around the world in our spectacular new Multiversity Galleries, MOA is yours to discover. This side of the Floorplan shows the layout of the entire Museum; the reverse shows a detailed plan of the Multiversity Galleries (MVG). However you choose to explore the collections, we hope you'll be amazed, enlightened, and inspired by the astounding works of human creativity on display.

MOA HIGHLIGHTS

- WELCOME PLAZA Artworks by Musqueam artists Joe Becker and Susan Point greet visitors to MOA, which is built on traditional Musqueam land.
- LOBBY + SHOP The massive doors in MOA's Lobby were made from red cedar by four Gitksan carvers in 1976.
- RAMP Objects here include new and older works by Musqueam, Kwakwaka'wakw, and Haida artists.
- CROSSROADS + INFORMATION DESK Have a question? The Info Desk is staffed by MOA Volunteers.
- GREAT HALL Home to totem poles and other large carvings, this spectacular space is frequently the site of world music, drama, and dance performances.
- OUTDOOR EXHIBITS Outside the Great Hall you'll see two Haida Houses, as well as several contemporary poles.
- GALLERY 3 This is a temporary exhibit space.
- MICHAEL M. AMES THEATRE The Theatre is used for lectures, workshops, and public performances.
- THE AUDAIN GALLERY Major travelling and in-house exhibits on world arts and cultures are shown here.
- MULTIVERSITY GALLERIES Discover thousands of objects from around the world. See over page for a detailed plan of the MVG.
- BILL REID ROTUNDA Bill Reid's best-known sculpture, The Raven and the First Men, is displayed here along with some of his other works in gold, silver, argillite, and wood.
- KOERNER EUROPEAN CERAMICS GALLERY This Gallery houses a unique 600-piece collection of 16th-19th century ceramics.
- AUDREY + HARRY HAWTHORN LIBRARY + ARCHIVES This facility houses a wide range of research materials. Check with admissions or www.moa.ubc.ca for more information.
